

Writing

Instructions

SAMPLE

SAMPLE

SAMPLE

Writing an Instructional Paper

SAMPLE

SAMPLE

SAMPLE

Full Copyright Valerie McClintick

Images © Jupiter Co and Microsoft Co.

Not to be stored in any type of file sharing system.

Classroom use is acceptable.

Not to be reproduced schoolwide

Step by Step Writing Guide

Writing an Instructional Paper

Step 1: Pick a Subject & Brainstorm.

A) Think of something you enjoy doing, or something you are good at. Take a look at the Hot Topic Sheet for ideas if you need to.

B) When you have chosen your topic start to brainstorm about your paper. What will you say? What steps or materials will be needed? Write this on your Brainstorming Sheet.

Step 2: Write Your First Draft.

A) Begin to write your basic steps with your Detail Detective.

B) Now it's time to add information that will help your reader understand what they need to do. Use your Writing Guide and expand your steps with transitions and complete sentences. Use words from your Transitions Sheet and your Tool Sheet. Finish the paper with a conclusion sentence.

Step 3: Review & Revise.

A) Read your paper out loud. Are all the steps in order? Are any steps missing? Does each step make sense? Fix any problems you find.

B) Read your paper out loud to a partner or friend. Ask them the same questions, and fix any errors you need.

Step 4: Edit, Edit, Edit.

A). Check your paper for any errors. Use your Editing Sheet to find any spelling, punctuation, and grammatical errors. Be sure your sentences are complete.

Step 5: Write your Final Draft.

A). Use nice paper, your best handwriting and double check for any errors.

SAMPLE
SAMPLE
SAMPLE

- How to Ride a Bike
- How to Play an Instrument
- How to Bake a Cake
- How to Fix a Broken Toy
- How to Be a Friend
- How to Play a Sport

- How to Do a Chore
- How to Tie Your Shoe
- How to Clean Your Room
- How to Care for a Pet
- Ways to Make Money
- Ways to Show God's Love

Things I'm good at:
SAMPLE

SAMPLE

Things I enjoy doing:
SAMPLE

What I will write about:

Writing an Instructional Paper

Use these sheets to expand your steps adding more information when necessary. This is the time to add your own voice to your instructional paper. Use your writing tools if you get stuck.

Title: _____

Does my title sound interesting? Would I want to read a paper like that?

Opening Paragraph Details:

SAMPLE

Opening Hook: _____

Is my opening sentence interesting? Does it grab the reader's attention? See writing tools for examples.

Main Idea:

SAMPLE

Have I told the reader what I'm going to teach them?

Conclusion: _____

Have I explained why they would want to learn about this topic?

Writing an Instructional Paper

Detail
Detective

Title:

Topic Sentence:

Step 1:

SAMPLE

Step 2:

SAMPLE

Step 3:

SAMPLE

Step 4:

Step 5:

Conclusion:
