

The Crafty Classroom

More ways to follow:

GIANT PACIFIC OCTOPUS

This set includes printable notebooking pages and coloring pages for different animals children might learn about at the aquarium. These pages are a great way for children to research and copy basic facts about each creature. The coloring sheets provide children an opportunity to learn about the details about the animals colors and unique markings. The coloring pages are also a wonderful way to include younger children involved.

Originally, I drafted a few pages to go alongside our local aquarium inhabitants, The Oregon Coast Aquarium. However, I decided to add in a few extra animals and some blank notebooking pages for children to design on their own.

Suggested use:

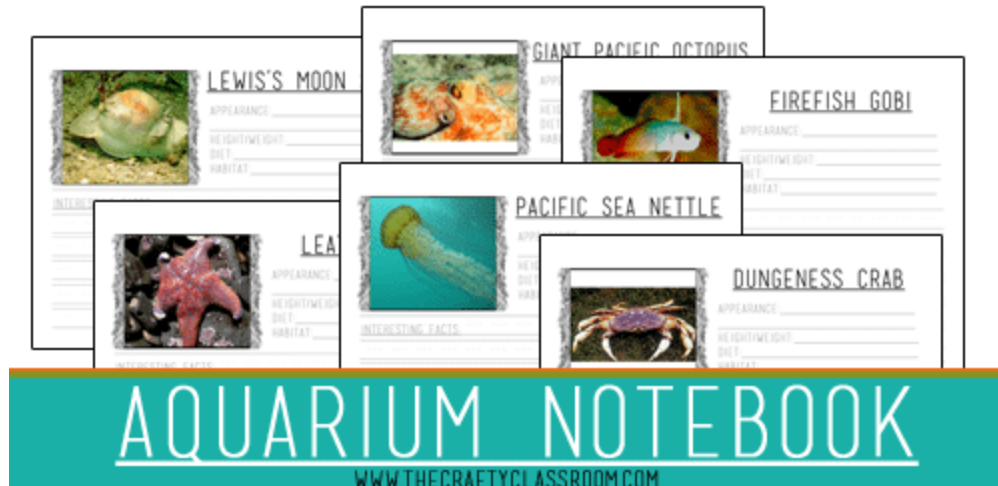

These pages are wonderful for before or after your aquarium trip. Even if you can't squeeze in a field trip, there are many wonderful books and online resources for children to learn about the animals at their local aquarium. Most aquatic centers have a website with photos and facts about the animals they care for.

As with most of our notebooking pages, I would recommend storing them in a three ring binder, or investing in a binding machine if you use notebooking methods across multiple subjects.

Study Plan:

Read about the animal online or in a book. (We love this children's encyclopedia series) Fill in your basic facts as you find them, and write longer and most interesting facts in the spaces provided. Color your sheet to match the animal.
